A wedding of much interest here was that of Miss Annie Lillian Robertson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Edward Robertson, of Providence Forge, and Dr. James Russell Parker, formerly of Bedford City, which took place on Wednesday afternoon. The bride's gown was of duchess satin, belted in waist, with long, thin, crystal trimmings. Her veil was caught with orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and bride roses. The maid of honor, Miss Marian Robertson, wore a pink messaline dress, with pink and white crystal trimmings, and carried a La France rose. Misses Lillian Parker and Sallie Christian, the bridesmaids, wore dresses of white tulle, with pink satin, trimmed in crystal, and carried pink sweetpeas. Little Misses Lucile Robertson and Ruth Bickers Freeman, of Portsmouth, held the ribbons, and Lucile Harris was flower girl. They were flanked by Misses with pink ribbons. Master James Anderson played the ring, Miss Ethel Purdum played the wedding music. The groom was attended by Dr. George Parker, of Bedford City, as best man, and his groomsmen were Dr. William H. Craig, of Richmond, and Charles D. Hines, of Louisa. After the ceremony Dr. and Mrs. Parker left to spend their honeymoon in Canada. Among the out-of-town guests for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence D. Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. Louis H. Emerson, of Portsmouth; Dr. Harmon Evans, of this city.

Visiting Here.

Haskins Hobson, in Powhatan county, to the marriage of Miss Patty Lois Hobson and Robert Davy Englefeld, which takes place at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon. A lunch will be given at "Mount Airy" at 1 o'clock to-day. The train will return to Richmond to-night.

Grover—Watt.
On Thursday evening at half-past 8 o'clock, in the Second Presbyterian Church, Miss Bettie Watt, daughter of George C. Watt, of this city, was married to Reverend William Wesley Grover, Dr. Russell Cecil officiating. The church was decorated in pink and white blossoms, and the bride was attended by Miss Lizzie C. Watt as maid of honor, who wore cream embroidered net over pink silk, with trimmings of Venetian lace and pink sweetpeas, and carried a shower bouquet of pink sweetpeas. The bride's gown was of white satin and lace, with pearl ornaments; her tulle veil was caught with lilies of the valley, and she carried a shower of lilies of the valley and white sweetpeas. The groom's best man was Robert Bodinger, and the groomsmen were James A. Armstrong, Randolph Watt, Rev. Allen Christian, Frank Lewis, Preston Watt, S. B. Hanna, John Millard and Frank Johns.

MARKER UNVEILED ON BATTLEFIELD

Erected at the Crater by Petersburg Chapter, U. D. C.

Times-Dispatch Bureau,
109 North Sycamore Street,
Petersburg, Va., April 28.

The granite marker, erected at the Crater by Petersburg Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, to the memory of Mahone's Brigade, was unveiled this afternoon with imposing and interesting ceremonies. Some 200 persons were present, representing mostly the chapter of daughters, the Ladies' Memorial Association and the A. P. Hill Camp of Confederate Veterans and Sons of Veterans.

There were also present a number of veterans of Mahone's Brigade from a distance, among them Colonel Robert Henry, of Tazewell, and Major R. W. Jones, of Mississippi. Attorney-General Samuel W. Williams was also present.

Past Commander George S. Bernard, of A. P. Hill Camp, presided, and introduced those who were to take immediate part in the ceremonies. The exercises were opened with an earnest invocation by the Rev. Charles R. Stribling, of Tabb Street Presbyterian Church, which was followed with the singing by a chorus of the hymn, "How Firm a Foundation."

The first speaker introduced was Past Commander P. H. Drewry, of the Sons of Veterans, representing the Daughters of the Confederacy. His address was brief, devoted mainly to an explanation of the work done and to be done by Petersburg Chapter, U. D. C. in the way of placing markers to commemorate the historic fields and events of the war. The first marker was placed on the battlefield of June 9, 1864, in which the old men and boys of Petersburg displayed such signal bravery. The last was that unveiled to-day to the memory of Mahone's Brigade.

The purpose of the daughters in the main is memorial, designed to perpetuate the memory of the heroic deeds of the war, and they are planning for a large amount of work in the nature of the erection of markers and monuments in the future, by which they will have a battlefield park of their own, without assistance from the Federal government. Mr. Drewry paid a high compliment to the women of the South and their patriotic work. Assistant Attorney-General B. Davis was next presented. His duty was to introduce the orator of the day, Colonel William H. Stewart, of Portsmouth. Mr. Davis performed this duty very happily and gracefully. But he took occasion in his brief address to pay noble tributes to the Confederate soldier and to the women of the South. Especially did he commend the bravery of the men of Mahone's Brigade as displayed in the battle of the Crater, when the 800 men of the brigade charged upon the 15,000 Federal soldiers in the Confederate breastworks, backed as they were by 60,000 men in close reserve. Mr. Davis pleasantly introduced Col. Stewart as the fighting lieutenant-colonel of the Sixty-first Virginia Regiment, which regiment occupied the center of the brigade in its memorable and successful charge.

Any synopsis of Colonel Stewart's address would do it injustice. It was an ornate, eloquent, splendid presentation of the side of the South in the war, and of the never-dying rights and principles for which that war was fought. It was conservative and true in its premises. No glorification of the South ever paid to Southern heroism and to Southern leaders; no more just and beautiful tribute was ever paid to "the good angels of the war," the women of the South, in their unparalleled exhibition of love and patriotism, than were those embodied in Col. Stewart's address. He paid a splendid tribute to General Mahone also, and said that if he had been given command of a corps early in the war he would have made a record as brilliant as that made by any Confederate general. Colonel Stewart eloquently extolled the work of the women of the South, and especially that of the Petersburg Chapter of Daughters.

At the conclusion of the address the marker was unveiled by Miss Otella Mahone McGill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William L. McGill, of this city, and a granddaughter of General Mahone. The exercises were ended by the benediction pronounced by the Rev. C. B. Bryan, D. D.

The Marker.
The marker stands within a few feet of the famous Crater. It is of granite, three feet six inches high, by two feet six inches wide. On its polished top, by inclining top, is the following inscription:

"This stone marks approximately the exact right of Mahone's Brigade, Virginia Volunteers, after the recapture of the Confederate breastworks on July 30, 1864."

On the front side below is the following:

"Placed By Petersburg Chapter, U. D. C., November 19, 1910."

Survivors of the Charge.
There are only eight surviving members of Mahone's Brigade living in Petersburg, who were in the famous Crater charge on July 30, 1864. They are N. B. Simmons, Putnam Stith, J. E. Whitehouse, Robert G. Thompson, Richard B. Davis and George S. Bernard, of the Twelfth Virginia Regiment; Solomon Carr, of the Sixteenth, and W. H. Thayer, of the Forty-first Regiment.

A few yards in front of the Crater stands a granite marker placed by the Second Pennsylvania Regiment to denote the farthest point of its advance.

LEAGUE RE-ELECTS ITS OLD OFFICERS

Report of Operations of Sanatorium Made by Chairman.

Car Line Will Not Be Extended to Ball Park—Other News.

Times-Dispatch Bureau,
109 North Sycamore Street,
Petersburg, Va., April 28.

The annual meeting of the Petersburg Anti-Tuberculosis League was held last night in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, and the following officers were re-elected: President, H. S. Soward, First Vice-President, Rev. W. C. Taylor, D. D.; Second Vice-President, Mrs. W. R. McGonney; Secretary, Mrs. G. C. Wright; Treasurer, William E. Armstrong. A full board of directors was also elected, and an executive board, consisting of Dr. W. F. Drewry, Mrs. Lella Hamilton, Mrs. E. C. Kent, Jacob Savage and Mrs. J. J. Lawrence.

Dr. Drewry, chairman of the executive committee, made an interesting report of the operations of the sanatorium. While the institution has only been open a few weeks, nine patients have been received. One died, two left voluntarily and six remain, all of whom have improved in condition. Many persons having tuberculosis decline to enter the institution, but prefer to remain at their homes. The receipts of the institution the past year were $3,568, the disbursements the same, less $160 in hand. Most of the money was expended in buying and equipping the sanatorium.

Improvements Recommended.

At the meeting of the Street Committee last night it was decided to recommend to the Council that the bid of the Coleman Construction Company to build four concrete bridges in the city at a cost of $3,800, be accepted; also that the bid of Perkins & Finn for paving West Tabb Street with Belgian blocks, at a cost of $6,700, be accepted.

Was the Cause of Much Suffering, That Cardui, the Woman's Tonic, Finally Relieved.

Pavilion, Mich.—"As a result of serious female complaint, occurring every two weeks," writes Mrs. William Sullivan, of Pavilion, Mich., "I became so weak that I could hardly get around."

"I took five bottles of Cardui, and it straightened me up right away. I hope this letter will induce some suffering lady to take Cardui."

The reasons why you should take Cardui are not far to seek.

First, it is gentle, safe, reliable.

Second it is purely vegetable and contains no dangerous minerals or habit-forming drugs.

Third, it is a tonic, prepared especially for the use of weak women.

Fourth, it is a specific remedy for women's many ailments.

Fifth, it is easy to take, obtainable in any drug store, with full instructions for use inside the wrapper.

Sixth, a successful record of over half a century proves that Cardui has real merit behind it and has stood the greatest of all tests—the test of time.

Be sure to ask for it, at your druggist's, to-day.

N. B.—Write to Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special Instructions, and 64-page book, "Home Treatment for Women," sent in plain wrapper on request.

Accepted. The committee will also recommend other public improvements to the consideration of the Council.

Will Not Extend Line.

A letter has been received from Superintendent Buchanan, of the Virginia Railway and Power Company, stating that the company cannot at this time comply with the request to extend its line to Dunlop Street in the vicinity of the baseball park, and giving reasons therefor. This decision is a great disappointment.

Opposition to Ordinance.

It is reported that opposition will be shown in the Board of Aldermen to the ordinance recently adopted by the board, granting a salary of $1,500, and creating a Board of Safety, composed of the Mayor, City Engineer and Chief of Fire Department, and it is feared that the ordinance may be defeated.

Big Hunt of Chickens.

The barn of Mr. Collier, near Mattoa, was visited by thieves last night and 150 chickens were stolen.

Married in Cincinnati.

Miss Thornburg, daughter of Prof. Thornburg, of Leigh University, Pa., and John Nathaniel Ioper, of this city, were married in Cincinnati yesterday.

Not to Withdraw.

There has been some talk recently of an effort to be made to have one of the two senatorial candidates in this city, withdraw, so as to make certain of a Senator from Petersburg. But it is understood by the candidates, each confident of success, will both remain in the field.

Personal and Otherwise.

Mrs. David Dunlop and daughters, after spending several days at their home in this city, left on their return to the Hot Springs yesterday.

Judge Mullon, of the Hustings Court, to-day granted about twenty-five liquor licenses. Other applications are yet to come in.

A camp of Woodmen of the World, with thirty-one members, was instituted yesterday at Cherry Hill, in Dinwiddie county, by District Deputy R. E. Mayes. Many of the most prominent men of the vicinity joined the camp.

The Legion of Honor, a veteran organization of Boston, will visit Petersburg next month on their annual trip South.

The supervisors of Prince George have decreased the county levy from 28 to 26 cents, but will increase the county school levy in order to give the schools a longer term.

Miss Male Jones and V. C. Bracey, a popular young couple of this city, were married in Washington on Wednesday.

The Rev. George E. Booker, D. D., pastor of Washington Street Methodist Episcopal Church, has accepted the invitation to deliver the baccalaureate sermon before the State Normal School in Parkville on the first Sunday night in June.

The two lodges of Knights of Pythias, of this city, whose charters and other property were destroyed in the great fire of last December, will apply to the Grand Lodge at its next meeting for duplicate charters. They have been working under special dispensation since the fire.

ANOTHER ADDED TO FIRE VICTIMS

William Nunn Dies as Result of Injuries Received When Home Burns.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Ronoke, Va., April 28.—The death list of those who perished in the fire which almost completely wiped out the family of Mrs. J. H. Nunn early this morning, was increased by one this afternoon, when William Nunn, twenty-two years old, died in a hospital. The young man jumped from the second story window, and was badly cut by glass. He was taken to a hospital with his brother Edward, twenty-five years old, who escaped from the burning building by the same means. Edward is in a serious condition, and death is expected at any time.

The bodies of the mother and eight children will be taken to Martinsville, their old home, for burial, on a special car furnished by the Norfolk and Western. The funeral party will leave here Sunday morning. The calamity shocked the community, although citizens rallied for the occasion, and more than $1,000 was raised by public subscription to-day.

GUARD LANGUAGE IN NEGRO ORDER

HOLDING COMPANY FORMED

Charter Granted Federal Electric Utilities—Conductors Are Welcomed.

Under no circumstances will dis-facet amendments be permitted in lodge meetings of the Supreme United Order of Baltimore Unions of America, by-laws have been submitted to Insurance Commissioner Joseph Button for inspection. One of them says:

"An amendment destroying or altering the intention of a motion shall be in order, but an amendment in relation to a dis-facet subject shall not be in order."

Further, it is not expected to allow any one by wrongdoing of a certain kind to blight the order. A section may not be of significance in the financial future of Richmond, was chartered yesterday by the State Corporation Commission. It is known as the Federal Electric Utilities, Incorporated, with its principal office in this city.

The minimum capital stock which it may issue is only $5,000, at which rate a holding company could not expect to hold to any extent. But it may, if it chooses, issue stock to the maximum of $500,000, which would make it a financial power.

The application for the charter was filed through the firm of Munford, Hutton, Williams & Anderson. The officers are all of New York. They are: M. Greiner, president; Dennis H. Keller, vice-president; John B. Marsh, secretary. The purpose given in the charter is to hold securities. Otherwise its plans are wrapped up in the general language which obscures rather than reveals the intent of concerns securing the right to transmit business as corporations in this State. There are to be two classes of stock—preferred and common, the preferred stock to carry 6 per cent.
